PREFACE

As the name suggests, it is the purpose of the Historical Records Survey Projects throughout the United States to survey, list and describe and to publish inventories of the official records of governmental units such as counties, cities and State. Also it is proposed to treat similarly the archives of certain non-governmental bodies such as church organizations. Furthermore work is being done along other lines, such as the listing of early American imprints and manuscript depositories.

This present volume, Directory of Churches and Religious Organizations in Idaho, has been prepared both because of its intrinsic usefulness and as a necessary step toward the work of inventorying all of the records of church organizations, if time and opportunity and adequate personnel permit.

In all, nearly 1100 church institutions are listed, falling under the following classifications: 991 churches (including two cathedrals), 49 missions, 3 church colleges and 28 church schools, 12 hospitals, 5 church homes and 2 convents.

We realize that this directory cannot be represented as absolutely complete and accurate in all respects but every effort has been made to make it as comprehensive and correct as possible. It is understood of course that changes are constantly taking place, particularly in the personnel of pastors and lay leaders; therefore all data presented in this volume are as of the time at which the information was gathered.

As a matter of convenience for those consulting this volume, three indexes have been prepared: Church Organization Index; Pastor and Lay Leader Index; and City and Town Index, with proper references to the various churches in each place.

In the body of the directory the church organizations appear in their alphabetical sequence (according to the classification of the Bureau of the Census), the various churches within each organization appearing in the order of the place of their location, the towns being listed in alphabetical sequence. Since the county is named in which each church is located, and since outsiders - to say nothing of residents of the State - have little knowledge of the exact location of the various counties, it has seemed advisable to include in this volume an outline map of the State of Idaho, showing the position and relation of its forty-four counties.

This directory was prepared in accordance with technical instructions from the Washington Office of Historical Records Survey Projects; Donald A. Thompson, Assistant Archivist, reviewed the volume before publication. The data contained in the volume was gathered by certified relief workers and was coordinated by the State Supervisor.

Preface

We express our appreciation of the general spirit of cooperation encountered in the course of gathering the information for this directory. Additional information and corrections should be sent to Historical Records Survey, 312 County Courthouse, Boise, Idaho.
